~ Keynote Speaker ~

Dr. Anand Raghawa Prasad, Chief Advanced Technologist, NEC Corporation, Japan

Title: 5G Security: Small steps towards big leaps

Abstract:

In this talk we will have a look at 5G security from 3GPP specifications perspective and more. The talk will also discuss business and social implications of 5G security concluding with future activities towards 5G Phase-2 including IoT aspects such as mMTC and URLLC

Biography:

Dr. Anand R. Prasad, Fellow IET & IETE, is Chief Advanced Technologist, NEC Corporation, where he is involved in business development, leads the mobile communications security activity and mobile communications standardization. Anand is the chairman of 3GPP SA3, governing body member of GISFI and he was governing council member of TSDSI. He has long experience in all aspects of mobile networking industry around the globe. Anand has published 6 books, 50+ peer reviewed papers, is editor-in-chief of the "Journal of ICT Standardization" published by River Publishers and, most of all, a passionate public speaker on information security.